

ETI IMPACT SUMMARY 2021-23

25

year anniversary celebrated

121

total members

14

company members graduated from foundation to full membership

73%

of company members rated their experience as a member as good or excellent

ETI Member Day brought together

150

stakeholders, trade union, NGO and company members

12

cases of human rights violations addressed, through advice offered or resolution sought

Company members by size

45

small companies <£100m

31

medium companies £100m - £1bn

20

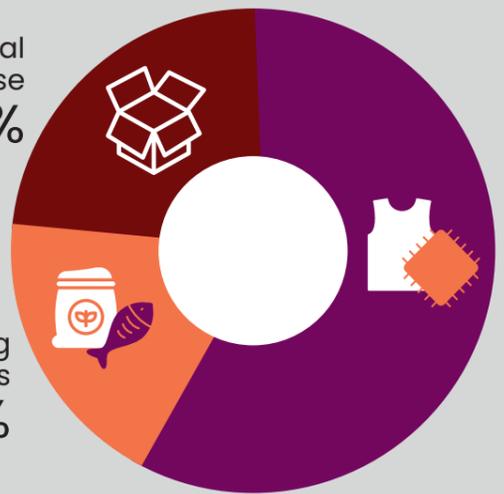

large companies >£1bn

Company members by sector

General merchandise 24%

Food, farming & fisheries 18%

Apparel & textiles 58%

18 new company members joined, including:

Lidl, Woolworths Holdings, Mamas and Papas, Scotch and Soda, Mint Velvet, Rapha Racing. See a list of all our members.

Essential training

Human rights essential training re-launched

"I attended all four ETI training modules and could not recommend them enough. It was a great opportunity to meet like-minded people while providing practical guidance."

Ella Wiseman – Corporate Social Responsibility Coordinator, Mint Velvet

"As an ETI member we benefit from the connection and exchange with other ETI members. It gives us more leverage on systemic and sectoral issues, and we can start projects more easily."

Stephan Jermendy – Corporate Responsibility International Manager, Aldi

"Being a member of ETI gives us plenty of opportunities to deepen our understanding of the risks in our supply chain."

Kasia Myatt – CSR Manager, Liberty

In Bangladesh

90,000+ participants reached with our International Women's Day campaigns

6,500 participants at 75 factories were involved in our work-based social programme, amplifying worker voice

3,000 people across 52 factories completed our workplace training

Read more about our activities in our full impact report, 2021-23

